SOURCE [REDACTED]

1. Source stated that by 20 December 1953, all of the 135 A 1-type air force training sets scheduled to be delivered in 1953 had been delivered to the USSR and that another 135 sets had been ordered for 1954. He added that Soviet commissions consisting of 6 or 7 persons were charged with inspecting the completed sets.
2. Source learned from an employee of the works that he had repaired an A 1-type set in Altenburg in late 1953 and that another set had been repaired near Pirna in 1952. This meant that 2 sets which had been diverted from deliveries to Moscow had been spotted in East Germany.
